About the Exam

The All India Bar Examination 2024 (AIBE) is a crucial milestone for law graduates in India, marking their eligibility to practice law across the country. Conducted by the Bar Council of India (BCI), the AIBE tests a candidate's knowledge of various legal subjects and their ability to apply this knowledge in real-world scenarios. Passing this exam is mandatory to be enrolled as an advocate in India.

This post provides a detailed overview of the AIBE, covering important aspect you need to know, from the exam structure to cutoffs, important subjects, and preparation tips.

About AIBE

The AIBE was introduced in 2010 with the aim of assessing the minimum benchmark for entering the legal profession. It is an open-book examination that evaluates an advocate's understanding of basic law and analytical abilities.

Key Highlights

- Eligibility: Law graduates who have completed a 3-year or 5-year LLB course and are registered with any State Bar Council in India are eligible.
- Objective: The exam ensures that law graduates possess the necessary skills and knowledge to practice law in India.
- Frequency: The exam is generally conducted twice a year.

Exam Format

- Mode: Offline (pen and paper-based)

- Type: Open-book exam (allowing candidates to carry bare acts without notes)
- Duration: 3 hours and 30 minutes
- Language: The exam is conducted in 11 languages, including Hindi and English.
