AILET

CLAT 2020 Exam and Application Dates Postponed Due to COVID 19: Exam on May 24

Aditya Anand · 27 Mar 2020

CLAT 2020 Examination has been postponed due to CoronaVirus COVID 19 pandemic spread in the world. The exam has now been scheduled on May 24, 2020.

The application deadline has also been extended to April 25.

Earlier, the application deadline was March 31 and the exam was to be held on May 10.

LegallyIndia has reported today, "The Consortium, which includes all the vice-chancellors (VCs) of NLUs, has agreed to extend the application deadline of 31 March 2020 and the date of 10 May 2020 in light of the situation, according to this year's CLAT convenor and DNLU Jabalpur VC, Prof Balraj Chauhan."

"We have decided to extend the date of application of [CLAT] submission forms," said Chauhan yesterday.

According to LegallyIndia: Under the current circumstances, he had said, with a national "lockdown approved until 14 April", the Consortium had hoped it would be possible to organise the test on 10 May as scheduled. However, he added "we are not sure what will be the situation after 14 April. Let's hope this lockdown will be successful.

"We are closely watching the situation and discussing all the developments amongst ourselves."

Will the dates of CLAT 2020 be postponed even further or will the exam take place on the new dates?

We will be updating on our platform.

Stay safe. Stay home. Take Precautions.

For more CLAT related news, visit CLATalogue.