In News

- Plea filed in the SC by a lawyer and disability rights activist Mr. Arnab Roy against the stringent conditions imposed by CLAT Consortium on Persons with Disabilities looking to avail scribes for the upcoming examination.
- 13 visually impaired students were denied scribes as the Consortium denies Consortium prohibits scribes if they are above 11th grade or if they are affiliated to any coaching centers.
- CLAT Consortium published a notification detailing the way PWDs/SAPs will be accommodated and provided support reasonably . The Consortium has further stated that for visually impaired persons scribes are allowed provided they meet the conditions put forth by the CLAT

Consortium. The condition states that- “Any scribes must meet the qualification criteria for scribes set out in the Consortium’s ‘Guidelines for Persons with Benchmark Disabilities (“PwDs”) / Specially Abled Persons (“SAPs”)”.

What are the aspirants saying?

- Many aspirants have said that the paper was lengthy but moderate in nature. However, the length of the passages has increased as compared to previous years.
- The difficulty level of the Current Affairs section would fall between moderate to difficult while the difficulty level of the English Section was a bit more due to the length of the passages.

How to calculate the total marks obtained in CLAT 2023?

- Add 1 mark for all the correct answers and deduct 0.25 marks for each incorrect answer. Don’t add or deduct anything for unanswered questions.
- Add total number of marks obtained from correct answers, multiply the number of wrong answers with 0.25 and then deduct it from the total marks obtained.

How to file objections against the questions or answer key of CLAT 2023?
