The Consortium of NLUs has released the CLAT UG (Revised) 2025 Results on 17th May, 2025. Check your score here!

The Consortium of National Law Universities has officially released the revised results and counselling schedule for the Common Law Admission Test (CLAT) 2025 Undergraduate (UG) program, following a directive from the Supreme Court of India. The move comes after the Apex Court identified multiple discrepancies in the original answer key and ordered a comprehensive revision of the evaluation process.

The release of the revised results follows a series of legal interventions.

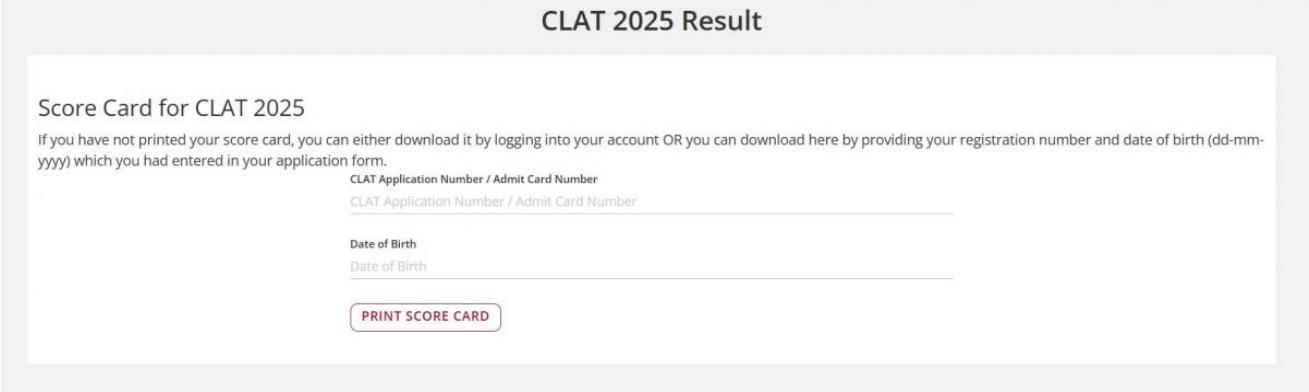

The CLAT 2025 UG examination was conducted earlier this year, attracting tens of thousands of law aspirants nationwide. Shortly after the initial results were declared, multiple candidates and stakeholders filed petitions highlighting discrepancies in the official answer key and questioning the fairness of the evaluation.

The Supreme Court and the Delhi High Court both reviewed petitions from candidates and identified errors in several questions of the CLAT 2025 UG exam. The courts instructed the Consortium to modify the answer key, award marks for certain responses, and remove specific questions from evaluation. These directives led to a comprehensive revision of candidate scores and a potential reshuffling of the merit list.

Candidates who appeared for the CLAT 2025 UG exam can now access their official scorecards on the Consortium’s website.

Steps to Check CLAT 2025 Results

- Visit the official Consortium website at consortiumofnlus.ac.in.
- Go to the Results section and select ‘view result’.
- Enter your application number and date of birth.
- Submit the details to view and download your revised scorecard.
- It is recommended that all candidates download and print their scorecards, as these documents will be required for the upcoming counselling and admission process.

With the revised results published, the Consortium of NLUs has also released the schedule for the CLAT 2025 UG counselling process.

The online counselling registration window is now open, and candidates are urged to complete their registration promptly to secure their place in the merit-based admission process for participating National Law Universities.

Update on the CLAT 2025 PG Results

While the undergraduate results and counselling schedule have been finalized, the CLAT 2025 Postgraduate results remain on hold. The Consortium has stated that the PG results will be announced after pending legal matters before the Delhi High Court are resolved. The next hearing on the PG results is expected to be conducted later this month.
