BLOGS

CLAT UG 2026 Exam Analysis: Complete Breakdown and Insights

Adtiya Aryan · 08 Dec 2025

Exam Date: December 7, 2025

The first reactions coming in from students across the country suggest that CLAT 2026 was a predictable and balanced paper.

The overall difficulty was moderate, very similar to the pattern seen in the past two years. English, GK and Legal Reasoning were comfortable for well-prepared aspirants because the passages followed familiar themes and the questions were mostly direct.

The major talking point this year was the heavy weightage of Arithmetical Reasoning in Logical Reasoning, which made that section more time consuming than expected.

Quantitative Techniques felt moderate, with standard data interpretation and arithmetic sets that rewarded accuracy and calm execution.

Overall, students who solved regular mocks and strengthened their numerical and reasoning fundamentals found the paper manageable.

This detailed CLAT 2026 exam analysis will help you understand difficulty levels, ideal attempts, expected cutoffs and the likely ranks.

CLAT 2026 Exam Analysis: Key Highlights

Component	Expected Insights	What This Means
Overall Difficulty	Moderate	A steady practice regime was enough; no major surprises
Sectional Difficulty	Easy to Moderate	English, GK and Legal were easier; LR and QT required more time

Paper Structure	120 MCQs	Same as 2024 and 2025
Expected Cutoff Trend	Slightly higher	Easier sections may push scores upward
Student Feedback	Familiar question style	Ideal for students who solved mocks consistently
Expert View	Comprehension focused	Logic and reasoning mattered more than factual memory

Section Wise CLAT 2026 Analysis

English Language

The English section stayed within an easy to moderate range. Passages centered around contemporary themes such as public policy, social issues, environment and behavioural studies. Vocabulary demanded contextual understanding instead of rare words. The main challenge was interpreting tone and author perspective. Students who regularly practiced reading comprehension performed well.

Parameter	Details
Number of Questions	24
Difficulty	Easy to Moderate
Good Score	Around 20
Good Attempt	16 to 18

Current Affairs and GK

GK continued to be the most scoring section. Most questions revolved around recent national and international developments. Students who kept track of monthly current affairs found the section straightforward. Topics likely covered included Operation Sindoor, developments in Nepal, G20 and SCO summits and major constitutional discussions in news.

Parameter	Details
Number of Questions	28
Difficulty	Easy
Good Score	Around 25
Good Attempt	23 to 24

Legal Reasoning

CLAT 2026 maintained its focus on comprehension based legal reasoning rather than testing deep prior knowledge. Passages touched upon constitutional rights, basic tort principles and everyday legal conflicts. While the passages were slightly longer, the structure was predictable. Accuracy depended on identifying the precise legal principle and applying it without personal bias.

Parameter	Details
Number of Questions	30
Difficulty	Moderate
Good Score	Around 28
Good Attempt	24 to 26

Logical Reasoning

Logical Reasoning was the trickiest section this year. Many students felt the arguments were longer and layered. Strengthen, weaken, assumption, inference and conclusion based questions formed the majority. Time management was crucial. Eliminating extreme or emotionally attractive options helped boost accuracy.

Parameter	Details
Number of Questions	26
Difficulty	Moderate

Good Score	Around 20
Good Attempt	16 to 18

Quantitative Techniques

QT featured a mix of arithmetic and DI sets. The difficulty level stayed moderate and the section required two or three step calculations. No major pattern change compared to CLAT 2025. Students with strong basics found it solvable while others experienced time pressure.

Parameter	Details
Number of Questions	12
Difficulty	Moderate
Good Score	Around 10
Good Attempt	6 to 8

CLAT 2026 Question Paper Pattern

Component	Details
Total Questions	120
Sections	English, GK, Legal, Logical, QT
Marking Scheme	+1 for correct, 0.25 negative for wrong
Duration	2 hours
Type of Questions	Passage based MCQs
Overall Difficulty	Moderate

CLAT 2026 Expected Cutoffs for Top NLUs

Category	Expected Cutoff

General	87 to 98
OBC	83 to 95
SC	74 to 90
ST	70 to 86
EWS	85 to 96
PwD	65 to 80

What Top Scorers Did Right in CLAT 2026

1. Picked passages strategically and did not waste time on long or confusing ones.
2. Maintained controlled attempts, avoiding unnecessary negative marking.
3. Consistently practiced mocks, which helped them spot patterns and manage time.
4. Built strong reading habits through editorials, reports and long form articles.
5. Stayed calm during tough LR and QT sets, which protected accuracy.

What CLAT 2026 Means for CLAT 2027 Aspirants

Students preparing for CLAT 2027 must focus on:

- Building reading skills early
- Strengthening comprehension and reasoning
- Solving at least 40 to 50 full length mocks
- Analysing mistakes deeply instead of chasing raw scores
- Tracking exam trends and passage styles