

BLOGS

CLAT PG 2027: 30-Day Study Plan: Roadmap, Revision Strategy & Free PDF

Shruti chauhan · 30 Oct 2026

Preparing for CLAT PG 2027 with only one month left? The CLATatalogue 30-day high-intensity roadmap sets out a structured study schedule from 1-30 November 2026, followed by a final five-day revision sprint from 1-5 December 2026, ahead of the exam scheduled for 6 December 2026.

The roadmap combines syllabus coverage, landmark case revision, previous-year questions (PYQs), passage-based MCQs, mock tests and error analysis. This article explains how to use it; the complete day-wise timetable, subject checklist and tracking sheets are available in the PDF.

Get the complete CLATatalogue planner, including every daily topic, study-hour allocation, MCQ goal, case-brief target, revision round and final five-day checklist.

Attachment: Download the CLAT PG 2027 30-Day Roadmap PDF

CLAT PG 2027 Exam Date and Pattern

The exam is scheduled for Sunday, 6 December 2026. The official PG paper format states 120 multiple-choice questions, 120 marks, 120 minutes, with one mark per correct answer and 0.25 marks deducted for each wrong answer. Check the official CLAT PG question format and exam instructions for updates.

CLAT PG 2027 Preparation Strategy: The 30-Day Plan at a Glance

Phase	Dates	Focus	Daily study load
Foundation sprint	1-10 November	Fast first pass through all subjects; diagnostic and sectional tests	7-8 hours

Revision and PYQs	11-20 November	Subject-wise revision, timed passages, previous-year questions and Top 50 Errors	6-7 hours
Intensive revision and mocks	21-30 November	Two full-length mocks, weak-topic repair and Final 100 Cases deck	6-7 hours; 5 hours on 30 November
Final sprint	1-5 December	Focused consolidation, reduced study load and rest	4.5 down to 2.5 hours

Which Subjects Should You Cover for CLAT PG 2027?

The syllabus includes Constitutional Law, Jurisprudence, Administrative Law, Contract Law, Torts, Family Law, Criminal Law, Property Law, Company Law, Public International Law, Tax Law, Environmental Law, and Labour and Industrial Law.

The CLATatalogue roadmap labels the first nine subjects as major preparation priorities and the final four as minor preparation priorities. These are study-planning labels, not an official subject-wise mark distribution. The downloadable PDF gives the individual doctrines, statutes, case-law themes and planned revision dates for every subject.

Daily CLAT PG 2027 Study Targets: MCQs, Passages and Case Briefs

Follow the same daily learning loop: learn or revise → active recall → passage-based MCQs → structured case briefs → error log. The roadmap generally calls for 40-60 MCQs and two passages daily, with larger sets on testing days. It aims for 500 or more structured case briefs in total, counting work completed before November. Most days target approximately 7-8 new briefs, increasing on some test days.

For every incorrect MCQ, record the concept, correct legal rule, relevant case or statute, and one-line explanation of the error. This makes revision more targeted than passive rereading.

CLAT PG 2027 Mock Test and PYQ Strategy

The roadmap schedules full-length mock tests on 22 and 29 November 2026, alongside earlier diagnostic and sectional tests. Each full mock should be attempted under timed conditions: 120 questions in 120 minutes.

Analyse mistakes as knowledge gaps, misreads, bad elimination, overthinking or time pressure. Prepare your Top 50 Errors list by 20 November and finish your Final 100 Cases revision deck by 29 November. The full PDF includes each day's practice and tracking requirements.

Final Five Days Before CLAT PG 2027: 1-5 December

Use 1 December for Criminal and Contract Law; 2 December for Constitutional Law, Jurisprudence and Administrative Law; 3 December for Torts, Property, Family and Company Law; and 4 December for the smaller subject blocks and important legal updates.

5 December is a taper day. Review the final case deck, error log, key provisions, exam strategy and travel documents. Do not attempt a full mock; stop early and protect your sleep.

Get the Complete Day-Wise CLAT PG 2027 Timetable

This article is the quick overview. For the detailed 1-30 November daily schedule, complete subject-wise syllabus, target checklists, mock protocols, 1-5 December timetable and weekly self-audit, use the downloadable planner.

Attachment: Download the CLAT PG 2027 30-Day Roadmap PDF

FAQs: CLAT PG 2027 30-Day Preparation

Can I prepare for CLAT PG 2027 in 30 days?

This is a high-intensity 30-day study and revision plan. It compresses a longer schedule, so the workload is demanding and the 500-case target includes earlier preparation.

How many MCQs should I solve every day?

The roadmap recommends 40-60 MCQs and two passages on regular days, with 80-120 MCQs on specified diagnostic or sectional test days.

When should I attempt full-length mocks?

The two full-length mocks are planned for 22 and 29 November 2026, followed by detailed error analysis.

Where can I find the complete CLAT PG 2027 subject-wise timetable?

The downloadable CLATatalogue CLAT PG 2027 30-Day Roadmap PDF includes the daily topic assignments and full syllabus checklist.

Should I attempt a mock the day before the exam?

No. The roadmap specifies no full mock on 5 December and prioritises light revision, logistics and rest.

This article summarises the supplied CLATatalogue roadmap. Recheck official exam notices in case of changes.