BLOGS

CLAT PG 2027 Application Form Last Date Extended to 7 November 2026: Apply Now!

Shruti chauhan · 02 Nov 2026

Here is the good news for LLM aspirants as the CLAT PG 2027 last date has been extended. The Consortium of National Law Universities has pushed the deadline for online applications from 31 October 2026 to 11:59 PM on Saturday, 7 November 2026. The extension covers both UG and PG programmes, so if you have not yet submitted your CLAT PG 2027 application form, you still have time. This guide covers the revised dates, fee, eligibility, how to apply, and how to use the extra days well.

CLAT PG 2027 Last Date Extended: Key Highlights

Details	Information
Exam	Common Law Admission Test (CLAT) PG 2027
Conducting body	Consortium of National Law Universities
Original last date	31 October 2026
Revised last date	7 November 2026, 11:59 PM
Application mode	Online only
Official website	consortiumofnlus.ac.in
CLAT PG 2027 exam date	6 December 2026 (2:00 PM to 4:00 PM)
Exam mode	Offline, pen and paper
Application fee	₹4,000 (General/OBC) and ₹3,500 (SC/ST/BPL/PwD)

What the Official Notification of Consortium

The Consortium issued the notification on 31 October 2026, signed by its President, Prof. (Dr.) Dilip Ukey. It states that the last date for submitting CLAT 2027 online applications, for both UG and PG programmes, now runs up to 11:59 PM on 7 November 2026. The notice does not change any other detail, so the exam pattern and syllabus stay the same.

For any help with your application, you can contact the Consortium at clat@consortiumofnlus.ac.in or call 080 47162020, Monday to Saturday, between 10:00 AM and 5:00 PM.

CLAT PG 2027 Eligibility Criteria

You can apply for CLAT PG 2027 if you hold an LL.B. degree (three year or five year) or an equivalent qualification from a recognised university. General category candidates need at least 50% marks, while SC, ST and PwD candidates need at least 45%. There is no upper age limit, and final year LL.B. students can also apply, but they must show proof of passing at the time of admission. Always confirm the exact conditions in the official notification before you submit.

CLAT PG 2027 Application Fee

The application fee is ₹4,000 for General and OBC candidates and ₹3,500 for SC, ST, BPL and PwD candidates. You pay it online, and it is non refundable. Your registration stays incomplete until you submit the form and pay the fee, so do both before the deadline.

How to Apply for CLAT PG 2027 Online

1. Visit the official website, consortiumofnlus.ac.in, and register with your email and mobile number.
2. Log in and fill in your personal and academic details carefully.
3. Choose your preferred exam centres, since CLAT PG is an offline exam held in cities across India.
4. Upload your photograph, signature and category certificate, if applicable.
5. Pay the application fee online.
6. Submit the form and save a copy of the confirmation page.

Last Minute Checklist Before You Submit

Check your name, date of birth and category against your documents, because errors can lead to rejection later. Keep your scanned documents ready in the required format. Do not wait for the final hour, since the website often slows down close to the deadline. Take a screenshot or download the confirmation after submitting.

CLAT PG 2027 Exam Pattern at a Glance

The paper has 120 multiple choice questions worth one mark each, to be solved in 120 minutes. Each wrong answer costs 0.25 marks. Most questions are passage based and test how well you apply legal principles to new facts, rather than how much you memorise. Read our detailed CLAT PG 2027 syllabus to see the subjects, and keep Constitutional Law and Jurisprudence at the top of your list.

Use the Extra Days to Prepare

With the exam on 6 December, every week counts. Here is how you can make the most of the time you have left:

- Follow a clear plan. Our guide on how to prepare for CLAT PG 2027 in 30 days gives you a week by week roadmap.
- Solve past papers first. Start with the CLAT PG 2026 question paper and the CLAT PG 2025 question paper, then work backwards through the full set of CLAT PG previous year question papers.
- Practise under exam conditions. Take full length tests using our CLAT PG mock tests and learn how to attempt mock tests for CLAT PG.
- Sharpen your statutes. Try our 30 important BNS MCQs for CLAT PG 2027 to test your criminal law basics.
- Pick the right books. See the best books for CLAT PG before you buy anything new.
- Clear your doubts. Post any question on the CLATalogue doubts forum and get it answered.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER FOR CLAT PG 2027.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the new last date for the CLAT PG 2027 application form? The new last date is 7 November 2026, up to 11:59 PM.

What was the earlier last date? The earlier deadline was 31 October 2026.

Does the extension apply to both UG and PG? Yes. The Consortium's notification covers online applications for both UG and PG programmes.

When is the CLAT PG 2027 exam? The exam is scheduled for 6 December 2026 in offline mode, from 2:00 PM to 4:00 PM.

What is the CLAT PG 2027 application fee? It is ₹4,000 for General and OBC candidates and ₹3,500 for SC, ST, BPL and PwD candidates.

Will the deadline be extended again? There is no announcement of a further extension, so do not wait. Submit your form as early as you can and follow the official website for updates.

The extended CLAT PG 2027 deadline gives you a few more days, but it is best to apply today rather than on the last evening. Finish your registration, then put your full energy into preparation. Bookmark this page, because we will update it if the Consortium announces any change, and share it with a friend who is still to apply.

Attachment: Click here to check official notification of CLAT 2027.