Step 1: Setting Realistic Goals

With 90 days at hand, the key is to break your preparation into manageable chunks. Create a study plan that ensures daily progress, keeping in mind your strengths and weaknesses. Here's how you can structure your time:

- Daily Study Time: 6-8 hours (spread across multiple sessions)
- Weekly Revision Time: 6-8 hours

Mocks and Analysis: Take a mock test every week in the first month, increasing the frequency as you progress.

Month 1: Build Your Foundation

Week 1-2: Cover Basics of English and Legal Reasoning

- English Language:
 - Start with reading comprehension exercises. Focus on understanding the main idea of the passage and the author's tone.
 - Read editorials from newspapers like The Hindu and Indian Express to improve your reading speed and comprehension skills.
 - Learn 5-10 new words daily from word lists and use them in sentences. Focus on vocabulary building and grammar rules.
- Legal Reasoning:
 - Begin with basic legal concepts and principles (contracts, torts, criminal law, constitutional law). Focus on how legal reasoning works.
 - Practice applying legal principles to different fact-based scenarios.
 - Start solving previous years' questions from this section. Get familiar with common legal principles tested.

Week 3-4: Dive into Current Affairs and Logical Reasoning

- Current Affairs & GK:
 - Read newspapers and online platforms to cover daily news.
 - Maintain a dedicated notebook for daily current affairs. Write brief notes on significant national and international events, important judgments, and legal developments.
 - Revise and update your notes weekly.
- Logical Reasoning:
 - Start with basic reasoning questions like syllogisms, blood relations, and puzzles.
 - Work on critical reasoning, including assumptions, conclusions, and inferences.

- Dedicate at least 1-2 hours a day to practicing different logical reasoning sets.
- Quantitative Techniques:
 - Begin with basic math topics like percentages, ratios, averages, and profit & loss.
 - Practice simple data interpretation sets and graphs.
 - Focus on solving mental math problems quickly and accurately.

End of Month 1:

By the end of the first month, you should have covered the basics in all subjects. You will have a solid foundation to build upon. You should also have taken 2-3 mock tests to assess where you stand.

Month 2: Practice and Strengthen Your Knowledge

Week 5-6: Focus on Legal Reasoning and Logical Reasoning

- Legal Reasoning:
 - By now, you should be comfortable with basic legal principles. Start solving more complex fact-based scenarios.
 - Practice questions that mix multiple legal principles to enhance your reasoning abilities.
 - Aim to finish solving past 5 years' CLAT legal reasoning questions by the end of this period.
- Logical Reasoning:
 - Increase the difficulty of the logical reasoning questions you're practicing. Work on tougher puzzles, analytical reasoning sets, and more abstract reasoning questions.
 - Keep practicing 2-3 sets daily to improve speed and accuracy.

Week 7-8: Focus on English and Current Affairs

- English Language:
 - Continue reading comprehensions from different genres. Start focusing on trickier passages that involve more complex vocabulary and sentence structures.

- Brush up on grammar rules and practice error correction questions.
- Practice mock passages and time yourself to build speed.
- Current Affairs & GK:
 - By now, your notebook should be filled with current affairs updates. Continue adding daily news and revising older notes.
 - Start solving monthly quizzes from reliable sources. Test your knowledge and keep revising important events.
 - Study important events from the last year, including government schemes, important judgments, treaties, and international events.
- Mocks and Analysis:
 - Increase mock test frequency to twice a week. Analyze each mock thoroughly to identify weak areas.
 - Work on time management – aim to finish the paper within 2 hours while maintaining accuracy.

End of Month 2:

At this stage, you should have gained significant confidence in at least 2-3 sections. Focus on consistently improving weak areas and maintaining your strengths.

Month 3: Fine-tuning and Exam Simulation

Week 9-10: Work on Speed and Accuracy

- Legal Reasoning:
 - Solve past 10 years' CLAT legal reasoning questions to get a feel for different types of fact scenarios.
 - Work on timed legal reasoning mock tests to improve speed while ensuring accuracy.
- Logical Reasoning:
 - Focus on practicing full-length logical reasoning sections. Time yourself strictly.
 - Solve past CLAT logical reasoning sections and focus on reducing errors.

- English Language:
 - Continue practicing reading comprehensions daily. Work on speed, aiming to finish long passages in under 8 minutes.
 - Keep revising vocabulary and practicing grammar.

Week 11-12: Revision and Full-Length Mocks

- Current Affairs & GK:
 - This is the time for intense revision. Go over all your notes multiple times in the last 2 weeks.
 - Practice weekly quizzes from different sources to test your current affairs knowledge.
- Mocks and Analysis:
 - By now, you should take at least 3 full-length mock tests per week. Treat these as actual exams. After each test, spend time analyzing your mistakes and understanding where you went wrong.
 - Simulate exam-day conditions: solve mocks in a quiet environment, and time yourself to develop mental stamina for the exam day. Click here to take a FREE mock today!
