About the Legal Research and Writing Course (LRW)

Every legal professional, whether you are a student, a litigator, a corporate lawyer, or an academician needs to have strong legal research and writing skills, and this course ensures excellence in this field.

This course contains 8 Modules:

- Module 1 introduces you to the idea of research generally.
- Module 2 is about research design.
- Module 3 tells you more about the research methodology & method. What is “methodology”? What is “method”?
- Module 4 dives straight into doctrinal/analytical research methods. How do you research a given legal issue? How do you find the right legislation or case law? This module explains how to best use available resources to find the authority you need.
- Module 5 is the empirical counterpart of Module IV. It discusses the various kinds of research methods under qualitative as well as quantitative methodologies.
- Module 6 addresses how to present legal research in writing.
- Module 7 explains how to present legal research verbally.
- Module 8 deals with the ethics of legal research.

About the Moot COURSE (& Competition)

This is a unique course which will help you learn the fundamentals and the advanced aspects of mooting.

As a part of this course, the students will actually do a moot competition too! You'll be given a moot problem, be asked to draft a memo, given feedback on that, and then we'll take you to the oral rounds where you get to argue before a judge! And yes, you'll be given feedback during the oral rounds.

This course contains 6 Modules:

- Module 1: Introduction to Mooting
- Module 2: Reading and Researching the Moot Problem
- Module 3: Drafting and Formatting a Moot Memo (Memorial)
- Module 4: Oral Arguments and Courtroom Mannerisms
- Module 5: Live Online Moot Court Competition: Oral Rounds + Personal Feedback!
- Module 6: Building a Mooting Culture in Your College
